Dominant Buying Motive: FREEDOM FROM COURT

She wants out of litigation and a firm that runs without delays, so she can do higher-value work and keep her personal touch.

> "I've decided that I've had enough with litigation."

> "I'm trying to get out of having to be in court, the litigation."

> "I still want to keep my personal touch."

What she wants:

- Automation. She wants most of it automated, from intake to sending rep agreements.
- Speed. She wants the agreement and payment link sent right away, not next day.
- A new practice. Estate planning, business law and IP, with no court time.
- Her personal touch. Clients still feel that she is the one handling them.

What is stopping her:

- Manual hand-off. A paralegal sends the agreement and intake form the next day.
- Contractor-only team. Meticulous paralegals are hard to find; a missed publication cost 90 days.
- Cost worry. A subscription feels risky versus one-time contractors; "if I don't pay for it, can't use it."
- Data worries. She asked what happens to her data on cancel and is leery of Clio for all documents.
- A rough year. This year was rough; large probate matters decide how it ends.

Why This AI Package

What it does for her:

- Gives her a low-cost, month-to-month way to start automating intake and agreements.
- Aims her paralegal hours at review, not retyping forms.
- Lets her test the fit before she commits to anything bigger.

AI Workforce Pro – Starter (1 user) | $350/mo

- The call was about AI automation, not marketing. Her own words drive the fit.
- Rep's read: the intake and rep agreement need is "largely just" AI Workforce Pro.
- Includes 1M credits per user, a weekly Implementation Session, month-to-month terms.
- No stand-alone price exists. Do not quote one. Overages are $150/mo.

Why Not Fractional CTO Level 1 Yet

What it does for her:

- Keeps the first step small and proves value before a bigger done-for-you spend.
- Shows her a clear path: Starter now, done-for-you CTO when revenue supports it.

Fractional CTO Level 1 | $3,297/mo bundled | $3,797 stand alone

- Requires $400K+ annual revenue. She reads at about $100K+ (HubSpot band: $0 to $180K).
- The rep called the CTO service "potentially overkill" for her immediate needs.
- Shown only as the Phase 2 upgrade in the report, with no price printed.

Why No Marketing or Coaching

What it does for her:

- Keeps the proposal on what she asked for: AI automation first.
- Respects her budget signals and a tough year.

Scoping notes:

- The decision file picked Starter marketing, Elite Coach and ads. Not used on purpose.
- Lead gen came up once, as an open question. It was not a stated pain.
- At $180K revenue the 35% cap is $5,250/mo. That bundle plus ads would blow past it.
- Under $300K needs scoping approval. Any AI package needs delivery capacity confirmed.
- Confirm seat count. Team size was not stated. A second seat makes it $700/mo.

No ROI projection is shown because no ad spend is proposed.

If She Pushes Back

"It is a subscription. If I don't pay for it, I can't use it."

It is month-to-month at $350. She said it "may be worth it because I am paying my paralegal per hour." Size it against her real paralegal hours.

"What happens to my information if I need to discontinue?"

On the call the rep said "You own all of that IP." Confirm the exact terms in writing before repeating it.

"I am leery about putting all my documents in Clio."

She uses SharePoint for files and Adobe for retainers. Do not promise integrations. Scope them in the first Implementation Session.

"Why not the done-for-you CTO service?"

Level 1 starts at $400K+ revenue and the rep called it overkill for now. Starter is the first step; the CTO is the Phase 2 upgrade.
