

Prendamano Tax Resolution & State Tax Advisory

Sales Companion | September 3, 2026 | Rep: Nick Holderman

Prospect Snapshot

Owner	Revenue	Team	Stage	Close Rate	Location
Jennifer Prendamano	Not stated (new firm)	1 (solo)	Stage 3	15% (default)	Melville, NY

Dominant Buying Motive: SECURITY & LEGACY

Jennifer wants a sellable, self-sustaining firm that funds her children's college education and gives her financial security in retirement.

"financial autonomy and time freedom"

"build a sellable asset for retirement"

What she wants:

- A firm that runs without her chasing every lead. Predictable revenue, not one client a month.
- A sellable asset. Real transferable value by the time she is ready to retire.
- College funded. Enough consistent income to pay for her children's education.

What is stopping her:

- Two underperforming vendors. $4,200/mo combined has produced one signed client.
- Zero Google presence. No Google Ads, no LSA, no claimed Google Business Profile.
- No team. She personally handles every intake call and follow-up.
- No ROI visibility. No way to tell if current spend is profitable or breaking even.

Why This Marketing Package

What it does for her:

- Replaces two underperforming vendors with a strategy built around the IRS-problem searches her clients are already running.
- Fixes website leaks — buried contact form, conflicting phone numbers — losing calls she already paid to generate.
- Builds local trust signals (GBP, LSA) a zero-review firm needs against 25-year incumbents like Tenenbaum Law.

Full Service Marketing — Essentials | $3,797/mo bundled

- Single location (Melville, NY), one tax-resolution niche — Essentials tier fits the firm's footprint.
- Replaces $4,200/mo split across two underperforming vendors with one coordinated, trackable strategy.
- Standalone at full retail ($3,797/mo, no discount), coaching dropped — per Slack approval, Sept. 3, 2026.

Why This Ad Spend

What it does for her:

- Moves budget from a channel that's barely breaking even (Facebook) toward the highest-intent searches in her niche.
- Creates measurable, trackable spend so she can finally see cost-per-client instead of guessing.

Recommended Ad Spend Range:

- Conservative: $3,000/mo — matches her current combined spend level, redirected to higher-intent Google Search traffic.
- Aggressive: $5,000/mo — Essentials tier cap, full budget to move toward the $50,000/mo goal faster.

Estimated Return on Investment:

- Conservative: 1 case x $10K = $10K/mo vs. $3K spend = 3.3x return.
- Aggressive: 2 cases x $10K = $20K/mo vs. $5K spend = 4.0x return.

All figures are estimates. Not guaranteed. No formal CPL benchmark exists for the Tax Resolution vertical — estimates are anchored to the firm's own historical Facebook ad performance (1 client from $3,000/mo).

How the range was calculated:

- Conservative: matches current $3,000/mo Facebook spend, redirected to higher-intent Google Search instead of cold social placement.
- Aggressive: Essentials tier ad spend cap ($5,000/mo); assumes a second case/mo once contact-form and NAP fixes cut lead drop-off.
- Total at aggressive: $8,797/mo ($3,797 management + $5,000 ad spend) vs. an unconfirmed revenue baseline — roughly 21% of the $500K default used for tiering. Under the 35% cap, but confirm actual revenue before signing.

If She Pushes Back

"We're already paying $4,200/month for marketing — why more?"

That $4,200/month produced one client. This redirects budget to Google Search, where IRS-problem searchers are actively looking, plus local trust-building the current vendors skip entirely.

"I don't have a big budget — the firm is brand new."

That's why this is quoted at the entry-level Essentials tier, standalone, with coaching intentionally left out — scoped to what the firm needs right now.

"How do I know this will work when Facebook didn't?"

Facebook ads are built for browsing, not searching. Google Search captures people at the exact moment they type "IRS wage garnishment help" — a far higher-intent audience.
