Dominant Buying Motive: NOT YET KNOWN

No discovery call was recorded, so there are no quotes and no stated goal. Learn his real motive on the proposal call.

Ask on the call:

- What growth means to him. More time, a firm he can sell, or a bigger footprint?
- Where clients come from today. Referrals, the website, past clients, or ads?
- The numbers. Annual revenue, average plan value, close rate, and team size.
- Current vendors. Who built the landing page and writes the blog posts?

What may be stopping him (public research only):

- Slow mobile site. Lighthouse scores 43 mobile and 89 desktop; the main content takes 7.4 seconds.
- No paid channel seen. Google, LSA, and Meta ads were not observed, but those tools could not be viewed.
- Review gap unknown. All review counts are unconfirmed; do not compare his count to anyone.
- Thin local pages. No pages for Garden City, Huntington, or Massapequa.
- Brand built on Jason. Name, bio, and consult offer all center on him.

Why This Marketing Package

What it does for him:

- Puts a measured, always-on channel in front of Nassau and Suffolk families searching for estate planning and elder law.
- Shows which search or audience produces consultations, so he can decide where to invest next.

Paid Ads Essentials | $1,997/mo bundled

- Seller-set package from the Slack request on 10/15; the proposal is locked.
- No stand-alone price exists, so there is no savings line in the report.
- Normally Essentials needs one practice area; this firm lists several.
- Mobile score under 50 normally means Full Service. Roadmap Phase 2 covers the upgrade.

Why No Coaching Package

What to tell him:

- Start with one clear channel, then add operations support when leads are steady.
- Phase 2 adds Fractional COO support; Phase 3 adds Fractional CFO, bookkeeping, and AI Workforce.

Elite Coach Plus removed by the seller

- The decision file first picked Elite Coach Plus ($3,200/mo bundled), then the seller dropped it.
- Default policy is marketing plus a non-marketing package; confirm this choice with sales-ops.
- Revenue and team size are HubSpot estimates ($570K, 3 people), not facts from Jason.

Why This Ad Spend

What it does for him:

- Buys enough Google and Meta traffic to learn what works in a crowded Long Island market.
- Stays well inside the $7,500 Paid Ads Essentials cap, so there is room to scale.

Recommended Ad Spend Range:

- Conservative: $4,500/mo — Google $3,500 plus Meta retargeting $1,000.
- Aggressive: $6,000/mo — Google $4,000, Meta retargeting $1,000, Meta cold $1,000.

Estimated Return on Investment:

- Conservative: ~5.6 cases x $1.5K-$3K = $8.4K-$16.9K/mo vs. $4.5K spend = 1.9x-3.7x return.
- Aggressive: ~10 cases x $1.5K-$3K = $15.0K-$30.1K/mo vs. $6.0K spend = 2.5x-5.0x return.

All figures are estimates. Not guaranteed. Case value and 15% close rate are defaults.

How the range was calculated:

- Range: set by the seller ($4,500-$6,000). Estate planning CPL midpoints: Google $135, Meta retargeting $52.50, Meta cold $55.
- Conservative leads: 37.5 at a $120 blended CPL (20% cushion). Aggressive: 66.9 at $90.
- Flag: Below the estate planning channel minimums ($6,700 with LSA). Send to paid ads team for review.
- Total spend at aggressive: $7,997/mo = 16.8% of the $570K estimate. Under the 35% cap.

If He Pushes Back

"We get our clients from referrals and reviews. Why do we need ads?"

Referral mix is unknown, so ask. Competitors like Davidov and Ettinger promote large review totals, and ads add a channel with monthly reporting on leads and cost per lead.

"$2K in fees plus $4.5K-$6K in ads is a lot."

His site lists couples plans at $2,000-$10,000, so roughly 3-4 signed plans a month would cover $6.5K-$8K of total cost. That is an estimate; ask his real average.

"Shouldn't we fix the website first?"

He is right that mobile is 43/100. Paid Ads Essentials does not rebuild the site. Position the Phase 2 upgrade and ask who manages the site today.

"We already have someone handling our marketing."

A developer-hosted landing page and SEO-style blog titles hint at a vendor. If he just signed one, do not push marketing; reposition around coaching or operations.
