Dominant Buying Motive: TIME FREEDOM

A firm that runs on its managers and systems so he has time and a clear role.

> "I take 10% more time than 5% less money all day long. I'm 51 years old, I need time, freedom."

> "I need clarity on what my role is."

> "That's what's keeping me up at night is the operations."

What he wants:

- Time and freedom. A fully offline two-week vacation by June or July.
- Role clarity. To stop wearing so many hats.
- Managers who run ops. Trained leaders who optimize the firm.
- A 90-day plan. Something in place by the end of the year.

What is stopping him:

- He is the bottleneck. He authorizes every case; there is no closer.
- Untrained managers. No one owns operational optimization.
- Disconnected tools. RingCentral and Salesforce do not talk.
- Boom-and-bust cycles. He wants a caterpillar, not a roller coaster.
- Key-person risk. Cash transfers break if he leaves without systems.

Why This Legal AI Workforce Package

What it does for him:

- Automates the reports and case scrubs he asked for, so gaps are caught early.
- A Fractional CTO leads the AI rollout, so he does not have to.
- Frees manager and owner time for work only people can do.

Fractional CTO Level 1 + AI Workforce Pro (15 seats) | $6,094/mo bundled

- FCTO Level 1 ($3,297) fits $400K+ revenue; AI Workforce Pro is $1,597 for 5 users + 10 x $120.
- He only uses AI for demand drafting today; he wants automated reports and an omission scrub.
- He is not open to AI signing cases, so keep AI to reports, scrubs, drafting and message-taking.
- Rep check: confirm LAW delivery has launched; AI Workforce Pro is a yearly contract.

Why This Operations Package

What it does for him:

- Moves case authorization and daily decisions from him to trained managers.
- Gives him the coach-style weekly rhythm he asked for.
- Makes a two-week offline break realistic.

FCOO Director | $4,997/mo bundled

- Call was about ops; he asked about a fractional COO and wants a regular check-in with a coach.
- Seller set FCOO Director in Slack; Partner is no longer offered.
- $3M+ revenue and 15 staff qualify; includes Elite Coach group deliverables.
- He has used a fractional CMO and CFO before, but never a COO.

Why No Marketing or Ad Spend

What this protects:

- Keeps the proposal on what he actually asked for: operations and AI.
- Avoids selling a marketing gap he told us he does not have.

Why it was left out:

- His words: He does not want marketing right now and feels confident in his systems.
- Active vendors: An SEO company and a marketing company are already engaged.
- Capacity limit: Case count is at max for the current teams, so more leads do not help.
- Possible seed: The fractional CMO retired in September, so vendor oversight is vacant.

No ad spend or ROI projection applies to this proposal.

If He Pushes Back

"I don't need a cheerleader."

Agree. He said it at 00:36:25. Frame the FCOO as an operator who builds structure, with a coach-style check-in rhythm he asked for.

"We're not, like, signing cases with robots."

Agree. Humans keep signing authority. AI handles reports, case scrubs, drafting and message-taking, which he accepted on the call.

"What about the price? I want a plan within 90 days."

$11,091/mo total, about 4.4% of ~$250K monthly revenue. He asked for a 90-day plan, and no price was quoted on the call.

"Why not just hire a COO or another manager?"

He tried all year to hire the right senior person. A fractional COO starts now and trains the managers he already has.
