Prospect Snapshot

Owner	Revenue	Team	Stage	Close Rate	Location
Karim Arzadi	$5M peak; ~$3M+ est.	5 attys / 20 staff	Stage 3	15% (default)	Perth Amboy, NJ

Dominant Buying Motive: STABILITY

Karim wants CourtLaw to stop being one crisis away from missed payroll and get back to predictable growth that protects the firm's 40-year legacy and its ~20 jobs.

"...yielding 'garbage' calls and no new cases."

"Probably for a bigger firm."

What he wants:

- Relief from carrying it all. Stop being the only one managing every financial decision.
- A pipeline that works. Rebuild lead flow for Uber/Lyft and car accident cases without repeating the $40k mistake.
- The legacy protected. Keep the 40-year firm and its ~20 jobs intact through this downturn.

What is stopping him:

- Intake collapse. New client intake fell from ~5/day at peak to ~5/month.
- Failing SEO spend. $10-12k/mo retainer producing 'garbage' calls, not cases.
- PPC aversion. A $40k Google Ads campaign in the past produced zero clients.
- No delegation. No dedicated ops or financial leadership below Karim.

Why This Marketing Package

What it does for him:

- Rebuilds lead flow across LSA and Meta first, plus a narrow, rideshare-specific, Spanish-language Google campaign.
- Converts CourtLaw's review advantage (~203 reviews, 4.6★) into actual local visibility.
- Replaces a $10-12k/mo retainer producing 'garbage' calls with a predictable, managed pipeline.

Full Service Marketing — Platinum | $15,997/mo bundled

- Revenue estimated $3M+ (HubSpot, medium confidence) qualifies for Platinum — confirm with Karim on the call.
- Multiple practice areas and locations rule out Essentials/Starter tiers.
- Platinum's $150,000/mo ad spend cap comfortably covers the $10K-$40K range.

Why This Coaching Package

What it does for him:

- Builds financial visibility and delegation habits before adding a fractional executive layer.
- Starts moving decision-making off Karim's shoulders in steps that match where the firm is today.

Elite Coach Plus | $3,200/mo bundled

- Master's Circle was ruled out — it requires a dedicated ops/marketing/intake staff member already in place, which CourtLaw lacks.
- Karim declined CFO/bookkeeping support on the call ('probably for a bigger firm') — this matches that stated comfort level.
- Sets up Phase 2 (FCOO Advisor) once ops capacity is proven out.

Why This Ad Spend

What it does for him:

- Rebuilds a real pipeline of Uber/Lyft and car accident leads without repeating the untargeted $40k PPC mistake.
- Converts CourtLaw's review advantage into actual call volume across LSA and Meta.

Recommended Ad Spend Range:

- Conservative: $10,000/mo — matches the PI high-competitiveness floor, concentrated in LSA and Meta plus limited Google testing.
- Aggressive: $40,000/mo — full multi-channel budget across Google, LSA, and Meta, at the firm's own prior PPC budget level.

Estimated Return on Investment:

- Conservative: ~6 cases x $7.5K = ~$45K/mo vs. $10K spend = ~4.5x return.
- Aggressive: ~16 cases x $7.5K = ~$120K/mo vs. $40K spend = ~3.0x return.

All figures are estimates using disclosed default case value ($7.5K) and close rate (15%). Not guaranteed.

How the range was calculated:

- Conservative: PI high-competitiveness floor $10,000: LSA $2,000 + Meta $7,500 + Google testing $500.
- Aggressive: Near the firm's prior $40K PPC budget: Google $15,000 + LSA $5,000 + Meta $20,000.
- Total at aggressive: $59,197/mo (packages + ads) = ~23.7% of est. $250K/mo revenue. Under the 35% cap.

If He Pushes Back

"We already spent $40k on Google Ads and got zero clients."

That campaign was broad and untargeted with no rideshare-specific or Spanish-language strategy. This plan leads with LSA and Meta — zero negative history here — and only reintroduces Google Ads with narrow, bilingual, rideshare-specific targeting.

"We're probably too small for a CFO or bookkeeping."

That's exactly why Elite Coach Plus, not Master's Circle or a fractional CFO, is the right starting point — it builds financial visibility and delegation habits first, matching where the firm is today.

"Our SEO retainer already costs $10-12k/month — why add more?"

That spend is producing 'garbage' calls with no conversion process behind it. This is a chance to reallocate underperforming spend toward channels with a clearer, more measurable path to case volume.

"Revenue isn't what it used to be — can we afford this?"

At the HubSpot-sourced $3M+ estimate, total investment plus aggressive ad spend runs ~23.7% of monthly revenue — under SMB Team's 35% cap. Confirm current revenue with Karim directly since this figure carries medium confidence.
