Prospect Snapshot

Owner	Revenue	Team	Stage	Close Rate	Location
3 partners (Boyce, Goss, Neal)	N/A on call	~10 total	Stage 4	15% (default)	Kent, WA

Dominant Buying Motive: FREEDOM

The partners want a self-managing firm that hits real personal income targets without repeating the high-churn, high-volume model they left behind.

"not a settlement mill / churn and burn"

"100% retention so far; no employee churn to date"

What they want:

- A firm that runs itself. Operations continue without partners trapped in daily case administration.
- Predictable personal income. $350–400K comp in year two, $500K within three years.
- To protect case quality at scale. Explicitly rejects the high-volume settlement-mill model.
- A documented hiring sequence. Add roles ahead of growth, not react to it.

What is stopping them:

- All three partners are hands-on. Litigation, HR/IT, and intake/ops each run through one partner, no manager layer.
- No profit plan exists. Case volume/value never translated into a take-home target.
- Growth is outpacing structure. Volume is climbing toward 40–50/month faster than hiring.
- No revenue data was tracked. The call surfaced volume goals, not financial ones.

No Marketing Package In This Proposal

What this means for them:

- No marketing or ad spend is included — the firm explicitly deferred that conversation to January 2027.
- This keeps the engagement scoped exactly to what was discussed on the call: coaching and capacity, not lead generation.
- The existing LSA agency relationship stays untouched — nothing here creates channel overlap.

No Marketing Package | Not included in this engagement

- Call-Purpose Override applies — this was a coaching/ops call, not a marketing discovery call.
- Seller confirmed via Slack (2026-08-26): drop marketing, propose Elite Coach Plus only.
- Existing LSA agency relationship is under review; revisit marketing in Phase 3 (see roadmap).

Why This Coaching Package

What it does for them:

- Gives the partners a documented hiring sequence built around the 40–50 cases/month target.
- Builds a profit plan connecting case volume and case value to the $350–400K and $500K comp targets.
- Creates the manager layer that finally lets Scott, Tyson, and Dan step back from daily case administration.

Elite Coach Plus | $3,497/mo standalone

- Standalone pricing — no marketing package attached, so no bundle discount applies.
- ~10 total headcount would normally route to Master's Circle, but the seller overrode to Elite Coach Plus standalone via Slack.
- Minimum revenue threshold met — HubSpot lists $3,000,000+ annual revenue.

No Ad Spend In This Proposal

What this means for them:

Recommended Ad Spend Range:

How the range was calculated:

- Conservative: Not calculated — this proposal contains no marketing or ad spend line item.

- Total spend at aggressive: N/A — 0% of revenue, since no ad spend is included.

If They Push Back

"We already pay an agency for LSAs — why pay for something else?"

This proposal includes zero marketing or ad spend — it doesn't touch or duplicate the existing LSA relationship in any way. It's priced and scoped purely as coaching.

"We're worried about over-hiring hurting our take-home pay."

That's exactly the guardrail Elite Coach Plus is built to solve — a documented hiring sequence and profit plan turn "how many people can we afford" into a number instead of a guess.

"Marketing isn't something we want to talk about until 2027."

Agreed — this proposal contains no marketing or ad spend recommendation. It's scoped exactly to the coaching and capacity work discussed on this call.

"Is $3,497/month worth it without a marketing bundle?"

Because no marketing package is attached, this is the standard standalone coaching rate — there's no bundle discount to lose on a single-service engagement, and it directly funds the hiring sequence and profit plan the firm asked for.
