Dominant Buying Motive: FREEDOM TO PURSUE HIS MISSION

Matthew wants a firm that runs without him so he can lead as CEO and put his energy into combating attorney burnout.

Call wording is from the Fathom summary, not word for word.

"This growth is a vehicle for Matthew Katz's mission to combat attorney burnout"

"Current marketing ($5k-$10k/mo) yields only ~20 signed cases, half the target of 40"

What he wants:

- A firm that runs without him. He plans to move to CEO and hand off daily leadership.
- An equity partner. His top associate becomes a 50% partner in three years.
- Double the signed cases. The goal is 40 a month, up from about 20.
- $10M with real profit. He wants 20-30% net profit within three years.

What is stopping him:

- Untargeted marketing. The focus is Local Service Ads, not high-value cases.
- Thin profit. Net is about 15%, and P&Ls are not used for decisions.
- No financial KPIs. Nothing exists beyond basic billing expectations.
- One-person succession. The handoff rests on a single associate.
- Slow website. The mobile score is 26/100.

Why This Marketing Package

What it does for him:

- Reaches high-net-worth and contentious divorce prospects, not just volume.
- Shows which channels sign cases, so growth does not rest on Matthew.
- Moves signed cases from about 20 toward 40 a month.

Paid Ads Starter | $2,497/mo bundled

- Ads-only was the seller's pick. The site scores 26 on mobile, so raise a rebuild.
- Starter ad cap is $20,000/mo. The $23,000 high end adds a 10% overage fee.
- Family Law in Chicago needs approval. Spend near $25K needs scoping review.
- Close rate and case value were not stated, so defaults are used.

Why This Fractional CFO Package

What it does for him:

- Shows where the firm really earns its margin, by case type and attorney.
- Gives Matthew and his partner a scorecard to run the firm by.
- Builds the path from 15% toward 20-30% net profit.

Fractional CFO Advisor | $3,297/mo bundled

- The CFO was the lead call topic. Confirm "Level 1" means Advisor.
- Revenue floor is $400K. The firm projects over $2M.
- Includes group coaching, masterminds, and workshops.
- Add a Fractional COO Advisor later to support the CEO handoff.

Why This Ad Spend

What it does for him:

- Builds a steady flow of high-value cases so the 40-case goal is reachable.
- Lets him shift money to the channels that sign the best cases.

Recommended Ad Spend Range:

- Conservative: $15,000/mo — matches the firm's cost per signed case today, scaled to 40 cases.
- Aggressive: $23,000/mo — full budget to reach 40 signed cases a month.

Estimated Return on Investment:

- Conservative: 22 cases x $4K = $88K/mo vs. $15K spend = 5.9x return.
- Aggressive: 40 cases x $4K = $160K/mo vs. $23K spend = 7.0x return.

All figures are estimates. Not guaranteed.

How the range was calculated:

- Conservative: $7.5K midpoint spend for about 20 cases = $375 a case. x 40 cases = $15,000.
- Aggressive: 40 cases / 15% close = 267 leads x $87 blended cost per lead = $23,000.
- Total spend at aggressive: $28,794/mo = 17.3% of revenue. Under the 35% cap.
- Caution: That math uses the $2M projection. At 2025's $700K the cap would be exceeded.

If He Pushes Back

"We already spend $5K–$10K a month. Why spend more?"

Today's spend yields about 20 cases, or roughly $375 a case. New spend is aimed at high-value cases and tracked by channel. At $4K a case, 40 cases is about $160K a month (estimate).

"I only came to talk about a fractional CFO."

He named both: 20 cases against a 40-case goal is a lead gap. Without CFO numbers, he cannot tell if extra cases are profitable. Bundling saves $1,500 a month.

"Competitors have far more reviews. Fix that first."

Review counts are unconfirmed, so verify live before the call. Targeting high-value searches and asking for reviews both help. The 26/100 mobile score is the bigger leak. Full Service Starter ($4,997/mo) adds a rebuild.
