

Rye Law

Sales Companion | August 5, 2026 | Rep: Jacob Meissner

Prospect Snapshot

Owner	Revenue	Team	Stage	Close Rate	Location
Rick Rye	~$570K (est., low conf.)	5 (1 atty + 4 staff)	3 - Solo	15% (default)	Toronto/GTA (4 offices)

Dominant Buying Motive: FREEDOM

Rick wants Rye Law to run independently of him day-to-day, using automation and a lean team instead of hiring more staff, so he can step back from being personally entrenched in operations.

"Build a scalable business that runs independently, allowing for more personal freedom and less direct management."

"Leverage automation and "virtual avatars" to avoid hiring more staff — a "sweet spot" for efficiency."

What he wants:

- A firm that runs itself, not just a bigger one.
- More personal freedom — time back, not just revenue.
- Efficiency over headcount — automation instead of hiring.

What is stopping him:

- Cash flow timing. ~$60K in year-end expenses + ~$50K unbilled AR are tying up his funds.
- No lead gen system. Zero paid or organic presence across all five practice areas.
- He is the bottleneck. Personally entrenched, no leadership layer beneath him.
- Guarantee skepticism. Flagged enforceability concerns on the guarantee — don't oversell it.

Why This Coaching Package

What it does for him:

- Builds the leadership and delegation structure Rick doesn't have yet, using his 3 clerks and bookkeeper.
- Frees Rick from being personally entrenched in every file — step one toward the independence he wants.

Elite Coach Plus | $3,200/mo bundled

- Proposal narrowed to Elite Coach Plus only per sales request — marketing removed from the immediate ask.
- ~$400K-$1M estimated revenue band independently qualifies for Elite Coach Plus.
- $3,200/mo bundled is well below the $5,000/mo figure Rick was already evaluating.

Why No Marketing Package (Yet)

What holding it back does for him:

- Keeps the ask at $3,200/mo — well under the $4,997/mo Starter price Rick was previously evaluating.
- Avoids asking Rick to fund ad spend on top of a new commitment while the AR is still outstanding.

Full Service Marketing — Starter | held for Phase 2 ($4,997/mo if added later)

- Rick postponed the existing $5K/mo ask over ~$60K expenses + ~$50K AR — coaching alone is a lower, easier re-entry point.
- Revenue and practice-area mix would otherwise qualify Starter — reintroduce it once coaching builds the leadership structure.

Why No Ad Spend This Phase

What it does for him:

- Keeps this engagement entirely inside SMB Team's management fee — no third-party dollars to Google/Meta to approve right now.
- Lead generation (and the ad-spend conversation) is revisited once the leadership structure is in place and cash flow is predictable — see Phase 2 of the roadmap.

If Ad Spend Comes Up:

- Reference range once Starter is reintroduced: Conservative $3,500/mo, Aggressive $11,500/mo — both scoped to all 5 practice areas.
- Do not quote ROI/ROAS figures for this engagement — coaching has no ad-spend component to project a return against.

Marketing figures above are reference-only for the Phase 2 conversation, not part of this proposal.

If He Pushes Back

"We already said we need to wait until January."

This proposal is built at $3,200/mo — well under the $5,000/mo figure Rick already reviewed — with no ad spend attached, so it's an easier re-engagement, not a harder one. It's ready to activate the moment the AR clears.

"The guarantee isn't enforceable here, so how do I know this works?"

The guarantee applies to the marketing/ad-spend engagement, not to coaching — reframe around the concrete deliverables instead: weekly coaching, a delegation framework for his existing team, and financial visibility on the AR/expense cycle that's delaying him.

"I don't have a marketing budget line yet — can this wait until the AR is in?"

That's exactly why this proposal doesn't include marketing or ad spend right now — Elite Coach Plus fits inside the management fee alone, with lead generation revisited in Phase 2 once the AR clears.

"Is coaching alone actually going to move the needle for 5 practice areas?"

Coaching isn't the lead-gen lever — it's the leadership and delegation structure that lets Rick step back from personally holding all 5 practice areas together, which is the prerequisite he described needing before scaling lead flow.

Investment At A Glance
